Purple Field Productions and the film Lisilojulikana (The Unknown)

Kenya and UK

Storytelling through film is a powerful way to change hearts and minds. A unique production by Purple Field Productions told the story of 'Grace', a 15 year old with cerebral palsy. The authenticity of this film was founded in a collaboration with in-country partners to script and film the drama. The team then used a solar-powered backpack cinema to screen the film in villages and towns across Kenya, with a lively facilitated community discussion after each one.

The response was positive – “The people who hide kids like Grace are many in our community. These kids are wonderful, and I want to urge these people to bring them out. We’re ready to accept them.” – Audience member after viewing the film.
